This functional residence features a split level design to combat the issues of the difficult site.

The home boasts feature timber batten screening to stairs that lead down from the entry, master suite complete with a walk behind wardrobe and en suite, gas fireplace, and a bedroom that has been transformed into a sewing room with ample storage space.

This stunning design also features extensive workshop space in the garage for hobbies, a secret door that leads to a large butlers pantry and breath-taking panoramic views to the west.
